

PHYSICIANS' DAY

Why it Matters?

Recognizing doctors honors their dedication to health and society, boosting morale, strengthening relationships, and showcasing their vital role in public health and innovation. It also inspires future generations to join medicine, supporting healthcare's future.

On average, physicians work 50-60 hours per week, with many working even longer to meet patient needs.

Over 50% of physicians report burnout, making recognition essential to show appreciation & improve mental well-being.

Physicians contribute more than $2.3 trillion to the U.S. economy, through direct patient care & employment in the healthcare sector.
